

Traveling in Hawaii

Portfolio project

1. Introduction

- ◆ I plan to create a travel/things-to-do website for people who are going to travel in Hawaii. We are in the stage of opening up the economy and people start to travel again. I think this website can benefit many people who love to travel to Hawaii.

2. Expected List of Features

- ◆ The home page of this website will have a nice picture as its background image.
- ◆ On the home page will have options to select which island to explore. It will have outline maps for each island listed.
- ◆ The navbar will include things to do, accommodation, shop & dine, maps etc. All these features will be based on which island you select from the home page.
- ◆ On the accommodation page, it will have a search feature for people to find an accommodation, with search preferences of price, check-in/out dates and locations, etc. I am hoping I am able to make this function through learning this bootcamp in the later courses.
- ◆ This website will continue to be built as a responsive site for mobile phone users as well.

3. Market Survey

- ◆ hawaii.com has some nice layouts with things to do and accommodation sections with big graphics and titles. I will try the bootstrap cards features for those or just the bootstrap grids.

- ◆ hawaii-guide.com has the outline maps for each island, which has the same idea I will do for this website.
- ◆ Visitseattle.org has this slideshow feature on their main page, which is what I am interested to build too.
- ◆ Comparing to those websites on the market, my website probably won't have such extensive detailed contents, but the goal is for me to practice and learn through building a responsive website with good and useful functions, nice graphics as well as clean layouts.

4. References

<https://www.hawaii.com/>

<https://www.gohawaii.com/>

<https://www.hawaii-aloha.com/>

<https://www.hawaii-tourism-authority.org/>

<https://www.hawaii-guide.com/>

<https://www.visitseattle.org>